Tucker Speaks

Hon. H. St. George Tucker speaks at Buckingham Court Tuesday. This popular speaker will no doubt draw a large crowd.

Chairman Byrd urges Democrats to send Oliver J. Sands, Richmond, Va., contributions to the campaign fund. Appomattox Democrats can leave their contributations with Col. J. W. Flood, local treasurer.

Club and Picnic

A Democratic club was organized at Chap precinct October 4 with 21 members, and the following officers were elected:

W. T. Nash, president. T. E Reynolds, W. B. Harvey, W. D. Harvey, J. L. Lewis and G. W. Woolridge, vice presidents: E. W. Cawthorne, Secretary.

Miss Anna Jones solicited funds for the National Democratic campaign and the contributors were:

Messrs. W. B. Harvey, J. Lloyd Lewis, Samuel Lee. W. E. Fore, T. E. Reynolds, S. G. Harvey, J. L. Jones, S. B. Fore, H. M. Burnette, W. T. Nash and Walter Lee.

Central Sunday School gave a picnic October 4th with a delightful program under the direction of Mrs. James Marshall, Rev. Burnett was speaker of the day. Mrs. Marshall and little Miss Nash gave recitations, and Miss Nelli Cawthorn had charge of the music. Misses Anna Jones and Alice Harwood were visiting soloists.

After the program, Miss Jones gave a talk on the political issues of the day.

Our Fair

The Appomattox fair directors and a large number of ladies met Friday night to make final preparations for the annual exhibition which will take place here October 15, 16, 17 and 18, and entries so far have surpassed those of former years. The inside building will be filled with farm and garden stuff as well as with local enterprises which have secured space for exhibits. The Norfolk and Western Railway and the state department of game and fish fires are among the outside exhibits that have already engaged space. Through the efforts of C. S. McDearmon reduced rates have been secured from Lynchburg and Petersburg to Appomattox.

The entire midway has been let and promises to be a place of much amusement for the entire week, both day and night.

Cold Prospect

The Promotor—"I was coming to if you will lend me your individual fication." Mr. Nickelcheck—"Nothing doing. I lend nothing without security."

Teachers Meet

The county teachers' Institute held an all-day session here Monday with about sixty teachers present. Harris Hart, state superintendent of education, was present and made a very appropriate address on the qualitative features of making pupils and urged that more credit be given pupils who show merit than those who just put in and stay the required time.

His address was well received, and teachers seemed very much interested. Mr Hart also outlined the West law, urging the teachers to meet as best they can all the requirements of that statute. He deplored the idea of something new and remarked that he would welcome a reform that would stop all other reforms.

The other speakers on the program were Jerry Burke, on "Fire Insurance." Prof. D. N. Davidson, on "Parent-Teacher Association"; County Agent Byrne on "Club Work;" Superintendent N. R. Featherston on "Reports from Teachers;" Prof. Crawley on "Resolutions," and Miss Eddie Hardy on "Fair Work." Nearly every school represented signed up for fair space, and Miss Hardy will scarcely be able to provide space for the exhibits. The pupils of the county are to gain free admission one day provided the school brings an exhibit.

Miss Fannie Haskins was chosen president for another term and Miss Aileen Houser secretary, with Miss Sanders of Pamplin, vice-president. Miss June Hubbard, Miss Nellie Robertson and Miss Sanders were chosen delegates to the state conference in Richmond in November.

Resolutions favoring the club work of the county, the health program, the qualitative instruction, inter-school activities such as literary and field exercises, were passed and met with full approval. Committees were appointed to carry out these features of the resolution and inter-school activities will be undertaken at once between the schools of the county. This is a new move and promises to meet with success from the start.

STATE CAPITAL

Hayes To Name Deputies

Richmond.—

James M. Hayes, Jr., motor vehicle commissioner, has authority to name deputies sufficient to carry out the provisions of the law as set forth in chapter 245, Acts of Assembly, 1924, according to a decision by Attorney-General Saunders.

About two weeks ago Colonel Saunders sent an opinion to Mr. Hayes in which he held that the motor-vehicle commissioner had no authority under the law to name deputies for the express purpose of enforcing the law against that class of persons who misused the road—speeding, reckless driving and similar violations of the law.

The last question was asked to a general construction of the law, the rights and powers of the commissioner, in the naming of deputies for the enforcement of the provisions of the law in general. This was a more comprehensive question than the first asked by Mr. Hayes, and to that there was returned a specific answer, denying the right to name the deputies for any one specific purpose, but holding such appointments for general law enforcement valid.

Mr. Hayes, in a letter to the Attorney-General on September 24, asked the related question; and Colonel Saunders made reply thereto, in which it is established that the motor-vehicle commissioner has power to name a sufficient number of deputies for the enforcement of the law.

Deans On Industrial Board

Parke P. Deans succeeds Major Richard P. Bolling as a member of the State Industrial Commission.

Chairman Charles O. Kiser has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to the chairmanship of the commission. Bolling H. Handy, next in seniority, is expected to be chosen chairman. The chairmanship of the commission should rotate among the members, according to Major Kiser. Major Bolling will take charge of private interest in Covington.

Thad Willis, an employee of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, of Southwest Virginia, met death from a stroke of apoplexy, was the decision of the commission. The widow of Willis sued for compensation, alleging that her husband had met death from an electric shock in the mines of the employer.

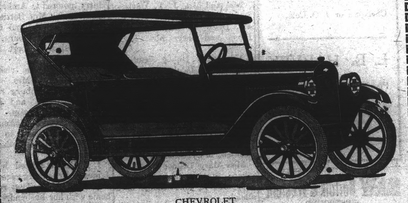
Health Insurance for the Whole Family



CHEVROLET

Without counting the daily utility of a Chevrolet for going back and forth to work, shopping or taking the children to school, etc., its value in saving doctor's bills, broadening your mental horizon and keeping the whole family physically fit, amounts to more than the cost of the car and its upkeep. It is more of an essential to the modern family than anything else but a home. Chevrolet meets the requirements of the modern family because it is economical to buy and maintain, because of its excellent appearance and riding comfort, because it can be depended upon, and because it is so easy to drive that any member of the family can use it.
